

Property Management Planning

Benefits

- Identifies highest and best usage for each land class
- Establishes a property layout which will maximise operational efficiency
- Guides and directs long term infrastructure planning
- Accurately establishes land capability
- Develops management systems to maximise production

Increasing productivity and management efficiency by shaping the way a property is developed

Property Management Planning is equally important for both the family farm and the corporate farming enterprise. The way a property is designed, enhanced, and managed can have a significant influence on productivity and management efficiency.

We offer a complete Property Management Planning service with a track record of assisting property owners in establishing productive, attractive, and efficient farming properties.

A well developed property management plan gives property owners a high level of confidence when planning and locating new items of infrastructure and improvements.

Enhancing and protecting biodiversity and natural resources through good property planning also offers a number of tangible and non-tangible benefits for the landowner, including increased property valuation. Property mapping, based on the productive capacity of the unique soil types which are characteristic of a property, provides additional scope to increase farm productivity.

Why work with Rural Directions?

We offer a unique skill set, in regards to developing property management plans, as a result of working with an extensive range of corporate and family farming clients. Our experienced consultants have a multidisciplinary skill set, bringing energy and enthusiasm to the property management planning process.

A well developed property management plan increases productivity and management efficiency by shaping the way a property is developed. As one of the largest private consultancy businesses in Southern Australia, our team offers a capacity to deliver on client projects large and small.

We are based regionally in South Australia and New South Wales, and deliver our services nationally. Our consultants are based at Clare, Dubbo, Freeling, Loxton and Naracoorte.

Benefits

Rural Directions offers a multidisciplinary approach to farm planning, combining our experience in the management of crops, livestock, natural resources, people, and business finances. Property Management Plans are uniquely tailored to meet the individual needs of the property owner and manager. Our services are designed around providing practical approaches to common farming challenges.

Our Property Management Planning Service can provide you with:

- A pre service discussion to identify the key outcomes required from the management plan
- On-property advice, guidance, and coaching
- An assessment of land class and land capability
- Property maps demonstrating property layout and land capability
- A detailed assessment of land and soil types, native vegetation, creeks and waterways, and all other physical characteristics of your property
- An infrastructure development plan
- A pasture development plan
- A cropping plan
- An analysis of production systems and land management systems
- An environmental management plan
- An assessment of plant and equipment requirements
- Risk identification and management
- An analysis of people and support
- An analysis of markets and logistics
- An assessment of farm enterprises and the calculation of business benchmarks
- The development and presentation of an ideal or best compromise property layout
- A whole farm assessment using the SnapShot NOW™ farm business analysis tool
- A written property management plan
- An easy to follow action plan detailing the next steps to implementation
- The development of an annual management calendar
- Presentation of the property management plan to your management team

Other benefits to your business

- Establishes sustainable solutions to managing your property's physical resources
- Enhances biodiversity and the protection of natural resources
- Increases labour efficiency
- Enhances the capital value of your property

For more information, contact us on 08 8841 4500 or visit www.ruraldirections.com

